FROM THE WEST.

[From the Daily Alta California, San Francisco, January 21.

Gold yesterday in New York, 136½; sterling, 109½. Greenbacks dull, 73, selling 73½.

Companies I and K, Eighth United States Cavalry, now at the Presidio, and I and K, Fourteenth Infantry, also at the Presidio, proceed for Arizona by the steamer of Saturday next. They will go to the front at Prescott under Colonel Gregg, who will assume command of the district on his arrival.

Judge Dwinelle has so far recovered from his late serious illness as to be prepared to resume his place on the Bench to-morrow.

The decision of the Supreme Court, in the cases of the Pacific, Broadway and Central Wharf Companies, denying them a new trial, throws the possession of the whole water front of San Francisco into the control of the State Harbor Commissioners at once, and will so largely augment the receipts of the Board as to enable them to go on with the bulkhead or sea wall at an early day.

The Examiner having filed satisfactory bonds has been awarded the city printing in place of the defunct Flag.

Another monster raid against real estate owners is about to be made in San Francisco. In early times the firm of Hastier, Bains & Co. becoming involved assigned the title to twenty-six fifty-vara lots, now valued at $3,000,000, to secure their English creditors. The assignment was never acted upon, and the lots were subsequently sold by the assignors to other parties and have mostly been built upon. Speculators have bought up the English creditors titles and the agent is coming back by the next steamer to commence suits against the present holders, who purchased in good faith, having secured the services of the most able lawyers in San Francisco to prosecute the claim.

Canyonville, January 19.

We are having another heavy rain storm. The rain commenced falling at noon yesterday, and has continued without intermission to the present time and continues to fall. The streams are past fording. The South Umpqua is running over its banks and the sloughs are swimming, which prevents stages from crossing from the north, and Wolf creek, eighteen miles south, is so full as to stop stages from the south. The storm is general throughout Oregon.

Canyonville, January 20.

The storm continues without cessation. We have no communication from north or south. Yokum's bridge across the South Umpqua, which withstood the floods of '61, was carried away last night. It will be at least two weeks before the means for crossing can be provided. Stages, and consequently mail communication, will be cut off for that length of time. We have had no stages from the south for two days, and no prospect of any reaching here for several days to come. It is still raining hard.

Canyonville, January 21.

The storm still continues. The bridge across Canyon creek was carried away by the freshet last night. It is also reported that the bridges across Cow and Grave creeks are gone.

[From the Virginia Enterprise.]

San Francisco, January 25.

Gold was 134½ in New York yesterday, and sterling 108½@109; legal tenders are a little better—leading brokers buying at 74 and selling at 74½.

The special agent of the Post-office Department has received and forwarded the following commissions to-day: Charles M. Silver, to be Postmaster at Newcastle, Placer county, Cal.; John R. Thompson, Sierra Valley, Sierra county, Cal.; Morris Bradley, Forest Home, Amador county, Cal.; Frances Menes, St. Louis, Marin county, Oregon; Edward F. Merwin, Independence, Polk county, Oregon; Amos S. Dubois, Lincoln, Placer county, Cal.; Hermann Jacoby, Wilmington, Los Angeles county, Cal.; Elihu Ranors, Klamath, Siskiyou county, Cal., and Wm. G. Pickett, Liberty, Benton county, Oregon.

This morning a deck hand named Manuel Frietas fell overboard from the steamboat Alameda, then lying at Alameda landing, and was drowned. The deceased was employed at the time washing the outside of the guard of the steamboat, and slipped off into the water. As he almost immediately disappeared, it is supposed that he struck his head in falling.

W. P. Adams, a passenger on the steamer Oriflamme, from Portland, was robbed of a Quartermaster's check for $2,000, drawn by Thomas McDougall, Assistant Quartermaster at Fort Walla Walla, in favor of Charles Russell; a silver watch and gold chain, and two memorandum books, during the voyage.

The suit of Mark L. McDonald vs. D. W. M. Seaton, deceased, is on trial before Judge Sawyer. The action is brought to recover $7,500 in gold coin, alleged to be due as plaintiff's share on account of a contract for the sale of the Oneida mine, in Amador county.

Governor McCormick of Arizona returns tomorrow on the steamer Orizaba. A number of our prominent citizens tendered him a complimentary dinner at the Occidental Hotel, which, from the pressure of engagements, he has been compelled to decline.

Senator Nye, of Nevada, will deliver a lecture in this city in aid of the Soldiers' Monument Fund before his departure for Washington.

The Lawrence Tribune says a joint stock company, called the "Leavenworth, Desoto & Fort Scott Bridge Company," has been organized under the State law, with a capital of $60,000, with the object of building a "Howe truss" bridge over the Kaw at Desoto. Messrs. Hilliker & Co., of Wyandott, have contracted to build the bridge, and have taken themselves $30,000 in stock. $6,000 was subscribed on Monday at Desoto, and the balance will be taken at an early day. Work will be commenced at once. The contract price for the bridge was $60,000. It is designed to have a magnificent structure. Thus do the evidences of substantial progress multiply and replenish our State.

THE ASSESSORSHIP.—The telegraphic news received last evening from Washington announced that the name of John Hogan, who had been nominated by the President as Internal Revenue Assessor of the Fourth District in this Territory, J. M. Avery, had been rejected by the Senate. This evening will give the particulars of Hogan's Rejection—Gentile enmity [illegible]

Salt Lake City, November 5, 1866.

Regular Nominee.

For Delegate to Congress,

Wm. M'Grorty.

The Election.

To-day, for the first time in the history of Utah, there will be an election at which there is a candidate in opposition to the Church nominee. The special election for Delegate to Congress will be held to-day throughout the Territory, from "one hour after sunrise until sunset." Heretofore elections have been little more than the mere farce of the people coming up to the polls and ratifiying the edicts of the Church. They have chosen to do this, and we don't know that we have any objections to it, or that if we had it would amount to a great deal.

Captain Hooper, the present Delegate, is announced as the Church candidate for re-election, and we have very little doubt that a good many votes will be recorded, or at least returned for him. Every good Mormon is expected to do his duty on this occasion. Just how Bro. Hooper was nominated, by whom, and for what, is neither here nor there. It is none of our business any more than it is of the other eight or ten thousand "male persons" in the Territory. It is sufficient that he is the orthodox selected leader of the voting cohorts of all true Latter Day Saints.

On the other hand, Mr. Wm. M'Grorty is presented as the nominee of the Mass Convention which met at Independence Hall on the 29th ult., and bears proudly aloft "A banner with this strange device," (for Utah), "Free speech, free press, political and religious tolerance, the Constitution of the United States, the Organic Act of the Territory and the laws of Congress." The forces to be to-day marshaled under that banner we confess do not constitute a very large majority of the entire voting population of the Territory, as it is a platform not yet much recognized outside of Great Salt Lake City. Yet the candidate, who is an esteemed merchant of the city, has a perfect right to run; his platform is an eminently sound and proper one; and every citizen ought to have a perfect right to vote for him if he chooses. We say ought to have the right, because we don't think the people of this Territory have the right to vote as they please. The ballot system commended itself to the founders of our free institutions by virtue of the secrecy which protected it from the inspection of those who might otherwise exercise espionage or despotism over the voter. This secrecy is the beauty and virtue of the system, and the guarantee of independence of thought and action. For this reason it has taken the place of the viva voce plan, and is elsewhere protected by the strongest sanction of the laws. While we have in Utah nominally the ballot system, (as, indeed, we have the other forms of free institutions,) the shrewd leaders have taken very good care that they are not debarred from knowing how every man votes, with even more certainty than they would if our elections were viva voce. If anybody doubts this, let him read and ponder on the following section of the General Election law, approved Jan. 3, 1863:

"Section 5. Each elector shall provide himself with a vote containing the names of the persons he wishes elected and the offices he would have them to fill, and present it neatly folded to the Judge of Election, who shall number and deposit it in the ballot box; the clerk shall then write the name of the elector, and opposite, the number of his vote."

This list, together with the ballots, is transmitted to the County Clerk, who, with the County Judge at the proper time, "counts and compares the votes with the names on the list" and certifies an abstract to the Secretary of the Territory.

Thus is an indisputable record kept to convict anybody of having voted against "counsel." Neither the Judge of Election, the County Clerk, nor County Judge is enjoined, much less sworn, to keep secret how any person may have voted.

It is not a strange though a very shrewd device to keep the "faithful" in the traces, and is a travesty on the ballot system. Hence we suspect that so long, at least, as this law remains in force, no "good Mormon" will vote for Mr. M'Grorty "or any other man"—except the regular Church candidate.

By the Act of 1859 the qualifications of voters are defined to be, "A free white male citizen of the United States, over twenty-one years of age who has been a constant resident in the Territory during the six months next preceding the election, and is a tax payer in this Territory." With regard to the latter clause it is sufficient that, having the other qualifications, the voter has paid taxes, Federal, Territorial, County or Municipal.

But there is another point to which we would direct the attention of Judges of Election, and which presents a singular omission in the law. The Judges are made the mere recipients and recorders of votes. They have no right or power, nor is it their duty either to challenge or permit the challenge of a voter. The Act of 1859 points out the method of contesting an election by serving a notice on the County Clerk, who retains the ballots and the list, and after hearing the objections to the challenged votes with the County Judge, decides the controversy.

There are some grave questions likely to arise in the election to-day, and it behooves everybody to be calm and not get excited. For instance, Congress has passed an Act knocking the word "white" plumb out of our Constitution, but whether the President has affixed his "veto" to the same, and thereby become a law, we are not informed. Query, then, have the half-dozen or more persons in this Territory a right to vote? In case of a closely contested election, will the Judges dare risk a rejection of the ballot of a colored voter? We pause, tremulously and anxiously for a reply.

Again, there is another odd provision of the election law which requires notice, just at this "exigency of public affairs." It is as follows:

"Section 13. When ties occur, if for a Territorial officer the Secretary shall determine the election by lot, in the presence of the Governor."

And this starts a multitudinous number of exhilarating and pertinent queries, e. g.: Is a delegate to Congress a "Territorial officer" or only a Federal functionary? Is the "lot" (that is the chance) to be confined to the candidates voted for by the people, (the law don't say so) or are all to have the privilege—including the editor of the Telegraph and the d—l of the VEDETTE—to draw straws from the hand of the worthy Secretary. Wonderingly and dubiously we propound to Mr. Secretary Reed the question—In the event of a tie between Mr. M'Grorty and Mr. Hooper, will you confine the drawing to those two? If so, how is Hooper, who is away off at Washington, to draw his straw? Can it be drawn by proxy? Though Washington is not so far off as to prevent "wire pulling" by our present delegate, isn't it, Mr. Secretary, a little too far to pull straws? Verily, this most peculiar law suggests an infinitude of queries, and much must be left to the discretion and judgment of the Secretary—in case a tie occurs in the election to-day. "England"—and Utah—"expects every man to do his duty" to-day.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

Washington, February 1.

Hon. Philip Johnson, M. C. from the 11th Pennsylvania District, died suddenly last night.

Taunton, Mass., February 1.

Cobb's woolen mill at Leighton, Mass., was burned this morning. Loss, $120,000: insured, $80,000.

New York, February 1.

Freights to Liverpool dull. Money steady; easy at 6 @ 4 per cent.

Washington, February 1.

The President to-day sent to Congress a reply to the resolutions calling for information, and transmitting a statement showing a number of reasons for removals in the several departments.

A voluminous document on the subject of Mexico was also transmitted. Among the letters is one from Secretary Seward to Marshall O. Roberts, dated December last, in which he says he does not deem it necessary or expedient, at present, to intervene in the matter of contracts between citizens of the United States and Mexico. This was in answer to Roberts' complaint that Juarez had granted a charter to the Tehuantepec Transit Co., in derogation of a previous contract conferred on La Tehuantepec Co., which, it is claimed, has legal force.

The President has issued a proclamation, discontinning discrimination of tonnage and imports against vessels of the Hawaiian Islands, and articles imported into the United States, from December 10th. The exemption continues as long as reciprocated.

The Finance Committee of the Senate have agreed to report a bill, on Tuesday, providing for funding compound interest notes received by banks.

There is no probability that the Tariff bill passed by the Senate will be accepted by the House. The bill will eventually go to a Committee of Conference.

Boston, February 1.

The roof of a building on Sumner street fell in to-day, severely injuring five men employed therein.

Washington, February 1.

In the Senate, the Bankrupt bill was taken up. The question being on an amendment proposed by the Judiciary Committee, to strike out from the last exceptions to the operation of the bill the following words: "and such other property not included in the foregoing exceptions as is exempted from levy and sale upon execution by the laws of the State in which the bankrupt has domicile at the time of the commencement of the proceedings in bankruptcy, to an amount not exceeding that allowed by exemption laws in force in 1864," an amendment was offered to substitute the words "and homestead and other property, not exceeding in value $2,000," for the words stricken out. It was debated at length, but no action taken.

The Senate then adjourned.

In the House, the Senate bill regulating the tenure of office of certain civil officers, was debated. Williams offered an amendment to strike out from the first section the words, "excepting the Secretaries of State, War, Navy, Treasury, and Interior, and the Postmaster General, and Attorney General." Rejected. Other amendments, to the effect that no vacancies shall be held to have happened during a recess of the Senate, were rejected. A motion to reconsider the vote on Williams' amendment was offered. Hale moved to lay it on the table; negatived—67 to 74.

The Committee of Ways and Means was instructed to inquire into the propriety of removing the internal revenue tax from straw wrapping paper and placing that article on the free list.

New York, February 1.

Ex-Gov. Washington Hunt is lying at the point of death.

Washington, February 1.

The Impeachment Investigating Committee makes no progress.

The Tariff bill will be referred to the Committee of Ways and Means, to be considered in connection with the Tax bill, until both are ready to be reported.

Washington, February 2.

In the Senate a petition was presented from sugar refiners, stating that $35,000,000 were invested in their business in the United States, and asking protection against the pending Tariff bill.

A joint resolution, authorizing the ocean mail service to go three times per month between San Francisco and Portland, Oregon, at a cost not exceeding $25,000 per annum, was passed.

On motion of Conness the Secretary of State was requested to report what steps had been taken by him to obtain from the Republic of Columbia the right for the United States to make necessary surveys for a ship canal through her territory.

Stewart, from Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill providing means for the entry, at minimum price, of public lands in California and Nevada, and the land settled and occupied as town-sites, with an amendment which provides that it shall not be construed as subject to the provisions of an act granting the right of way to ditch and canal owners over public lands, and nothing in the act shall be construed so as to grant any right in conflict with the rights of miners upon public lands, which they hold under the laws of Congress, or by virtue of the rules and customs of miners.

Toronto, February 1.

The total number of Fenians tried here since June are 107. The cases were disposed of as follows: 22 convicted; 40 acquitted; 42 dismissed for want of evidence; 3 discharged on bail; 3 untried and considered to be sent to the Kingston Penitentiary.

Washington, February 1.

The Senate confirmed H. H. Heath as Secretary of the Territory of New Mexico to-day.

The President sent to the House to-day a reply to the resolution calling for information in relation to the removals from office.

New York, February 2.

A rumor in Wall street has it that a crisis of a threatening nature hangs over many insurance corporations of the city, owing to the unprecedented losses by fires and marine disasters during the past year. Yearly statements were published by some of the most prominent companies yesterday, by which it appears that many of them cancel all capital represented by scrip.

A Times Washington special says the House Judiciary Committee have become satisfied that the testimony already introduced, including that of General Butler, is sufficient to warrant articles of impeachment against the President. This conclusion is based upon the testimony of Radicals only. There has been no testimony yet heard on behalf of the President, and when this is offered it may entirely change the minds of the Committee.

Another Times' special says the vote given in the House on the provision in tenure of office of Cabinet officers, that they are not to be removed except by and with the advice of the Senate, was brought out by a statement privately made that in no other way could Secretary Stanton be retained in his place.

It is reported that Senator Saulsbury is determined to resign.

The author of the letter to Mr. Seward, concerning Mr. Motley, is a man of wealth, making a tour of pleasure through Europe. His name will probably be communicated to the Senate in response to Sumner's communication.

A Tribune special says General Ashley has just come into possession of some very important facts, which are exceedingly damaging to the President.

The Judiciary Committee are at work on the investigation of the alleged implication of Jeff. Davis in the assassination of President Lincoln.

The Postal Committee to-day decided to recommend the repeal of the law prohibiting the carrying of books and newspapers in the overland mail and making the postal laws of the country uniform in action.

Ex-Governor Washington Hunt died at 1 A. M. to-day.

It is believed that the appointment of the naval officer of New York will soon be made.

A World special says there is some foundation for the reported new plan of reconstruction. The President has asked the views of leading Southerners, which he will submit to the 40th Congress in his message. The basis it is thought will commend itself to the liberal elements of the Republican party.

Junction City, Kansas, February 2.

An arrival at Salina, fifty miles west of here, yesterday, reports a frightful massacre of white men by the Cheyennes, near the head of Smoky Hill River, a few days since, under the following circumstances: A train with 60 men were in camp, when a party of 14 Indians came begging. The teamsters refused to give them anything, whereupon the Indians fired upon them, but without effect. The teamsters returned the fire and killed 8 Indians. About 8 P. M., that evening, the camp was surrounded by 200 Indians, who massacred 59 out of 63 of the men. The man that brought the news had an arrow hole through the shoulder and another wound in the hip. He claims to be one of the four who escaped.

Washington, February 2.

In the House, on motion of Wilson, of Iowa, leave was given to the Judiciary Committee to sit during the sessions of the House for the remainder of the season.

Hooper gave notice of his intention to move on Monday for evening sessions of the House, except Saturdays.

A SINGULAR FACT.—Several years ago, the ship Flying Dragon arrived in this bay from New York with a cargo of coals. In making for an anchorage she went a little too near the shore between Black Point and Saucelito, not far from where the steamer America lay in quarantine, and while tacking, she struck a rock on which she hung, but soon partially filled with water in consequence of having knocked a hole in her bottom. She lay in this condition for two or three days, during which she was visited by surveyors and others interested, who pronounced her as hopelessly wrecked, and she was sold, as she lay, to Fonda & Gray, for the sum of $800. These gentlemen, soon after making the purchase, with a party of wreckers went off in a tug boat to collect such articles as could be brought ashore. Just as they were approaching the wreck, through some unknown cause it slipped off the rock and sank like a stone, and strange to state, not a spar or a fragment of the vessel has ever been recovered. Notwithstanding considerable effort was make to find the wreck, it has never been found. It is quite an interesting question to know what became of it—where did it go, that during seven years not a fragment has ever been found?—San Francisco Times.

REMARKABLE MOVEMENT AMONG THE JEWS IN BOMBAY.—The Indian Portugueza, a Portuguese journal published in Goa, states that great excitement has been caused among the Jews in Bombay by the publication by their pontiff, H. B. Kanyon, "member of the family of Aaron," who has lately come to Bombay from Jerusalem, of a pamphlet under the title The Voice of the Vigilant, the object of this Voice being to persuade the Jews that it is useless waiting any longer for the promised Messiah, as this is Jesus Christ himself, "whose doctrines have been spread all over the world without sword or force." The Voice is said to use "arguments that are solid and conclusive." "Compare," says the pontiff, "the old and new testaments, and the truth will be seen." He also adds that he was born in the old law, and under it was elevated to the pontificate, but the light had already penetrated with its rays into the deep recesses of his mind, and he is therefore persuaded and with well founded reasons, that it is in vain the Messiah is now looked for.

The Victoire was met on the way down from San Blas, where she had gone to take on board the stragglers from the French column cut to pieces at San Juan de los Gages, of which quite a number had reached the coast. A copy of the French official paper of the City of Mexico, dated December 29th, contains the following editorial summary:

"We cannot but admit that concerning the order to stop the dissidents, no time is to be lost and no means spared. They were fifteen days ago at Zacatecas, to-day masters of Aguas Calientes and Guadalajara. The latter city was occupied by them on the 20th inst., the result of the battle fought at a distance of 30 miles from said place, in which the Imperial forces were completely annihilated. The loss sustained by the battalion was enormous, 150 prisoners falling into the hands of the enemy. From another side General Mejia, menaced by superior forces, read to pounce upon him, has been obliged to evacuate San Luis Potosi. He commenced his retreat toward Queretaro on the 26th. The circle around the Capital is thus becoming narrower every day. On the southeast the forces of Porfirio Diaz extend into the State of Puebla. The valley of the City of Mexico has been the theatre of several rencounters. The dissidents are everywhere and almost at the gates of the Capital. They have been occupying Chalio for several days and they command the Imperial Railroad, which they have ordered to be destroyed!"

The above will give but a faint idea of the desperate situation of the empire. Private advices say General Diaz had received a full cargo of arms from New York, which enables them to largely increase their numbers.

The Pioneer Petroleum Refinery, with a capital stock of $50,000, incorporated to-day.

The funds required to complete the Napa Valley Railroad through from Vallejo to Calistoga are all subscribed but $25,000, and the work will be finished by the 4th of July next.

The final mandate of the Supreme Court of the United States dismissing the appeal of the United States in the Pueblo cases was received to-day. The holders of the old De Haro claim, once rejected as fraudulent, the Joaquin final claim, and others, are moving to resuscitate them, and a lively fight between the city and speculators who have claimed every foot of the land included in the Pueblo ground is likely to be speedily inaugurated.

DEATH OF JUDGE STRATTON.—Riley E. Stratton has been a prominent man in Oregon from an early day—a man, too, who had numerous friends and was most highly appreciated for his social qualities. While I last saw him he was in the prime of life and the very embodiment of health. To have made a picture of robust physical well-being the physiologist could have selected no more perfect model than Judge Stratton, and the news of his decease was received throughout the State, a few days since, with more than usual surprise and regret. Since the State organization went into effect, and until his death, Stratton occupied a position upon the Supreme Bench of Oregon, where he commanded the respect of all. He was a man of stirring business enterprise, and made his mark generally, though as a jurist he was not considered the equal of Judges Boise and Shattuck. Politically his antecedents had been Democratic, but when the rebellion broke out he sided with the Government, as was natural to a man whose tendencies had been to advocate Free-Soil doctrines. He was an intimate companion of Senator Nesmith and Bush, and of late was supposed to agree with them in supporting the Johnson policy—at least, he was friendly to Nesmith. There is a universal regret expressed at his loss, that is most honorable to his memory, and probably no man in the State possessed more personal friends than he.

The occasion of a vacancy on the Supreme Bench has caused a great excitement in the legal fraternity throughout the State, and especially in that district. It is safe to say that nearly every Union lawyer there whose name has been on the rolls three years presented his modest claims to the succession for the consideration of his Excellency, and most of them made a personal appearance in the case. Outside of the Second Judicial District, as many more claimants were found. So that Governor Woods has had abundant room for his discretion to be exercised.—Cor. Sacramento Union.

DEATH OF THE OREGON STATESMAN.—This newspaper, which had been in existence for sixteen years, wound up its career last week and what then was left of it went into the possession of the American Unionist, also published here. When the Statesman took the Johnson cut-off, with Nesmith as its guide and Indian Agent Ben. Simpson as its file leader, it joined a party which, as Senator Williams tersely remarks, has not yet been born. Johnson's policy and Nesmith's position as a quasi Unionist and demi-Democrat could not carry anything through, not even a newspaper. Johnson's policy was sing in full crescendo, but the subscription list answered with a diminuendo that made horrible discord with the cash account; and after seeing a few thousand dollars lapse into insignificance and his political hopes grow small by degrees until they came notably to naught, then Ben. Simpson, finding himself wonderfully sold, sold out. Having punched Ben considerably for his tendencies toward Johnson, Nesmith and—not least—Simpson, I am going to do him justice in a quarter where he is sometimes called a great rascal—that is, as an Indian Agent. It is very common to consider Government officials dishonest, and Indian Agents, in particular, are known to get poor pay and supposed to have great chances. Ben. Simpson has probably had more success in his administration of an Agency than was ever achieved before in this superintendency. He is of a liberal and enthusiastic nature, and has entered zealously into the work. The Indians under him actually show advancement and are sustaining themselves principally by their own labor. His influence over them has been most salutary, and he evidently has not become enriched by the business. As an honest and capable man he succeeds well enough in many things; but he "can't keep a hotel," at least a Johnson hotel.—Oregon Correspondent of the Sacramento Union.

A NOTABLE DEATH.—The Arizona (La Paz) Gazette, of the 3d ultimo, says:

Mrs. Bowman (familiarly known as the Great Western,) died on the 26th of December at Fort Yuma. She was buried the next day in the fort burial ground, with all the honors of war, the band playing the Dead March, and the men of the garrison carrying their arms reversed, and firing a salute of [illegible] over her grave, the flag being at half mast. It is said to have been the largest funeral that ever took place at Fort Yuma. All the business houses were closed, and everyone tried to show the greatest respect to the last remains of a woman who was distinguished for undaunted courage and most tender humanity to the wounded at Buena de la Palma, Buena Vista, and other glorious battle-fields in Mexico.

INDIAN OUTRAGE.—The following is from Colorado Register, of the 25th ult.:

River Side, January 24.

The Indians made a raid on this station last night. Three men were killed, and a large amount of stock belonging to a train driven off. A demand has been made on the stage company's agent at Denver for guns and ammunition. More attacks are expected along the line. (Signed) Overton.

THE Sacramento Record, of January 25th, says: On the 14th inst. the Pacific Railroad, U. D., was finished to a point twenty miles west of Fort Riley and was graded forty-five miles further, and is under contract to be completed to the three hundred and eighty-fifth milepost by the 1st of January 1868. The earnings of the road for November were $77,869 53, and are expected to average $100,000 per month during the year 1867.

THE following is a special dispatch to the Sacramento Union, of January 19th:

New York, January 15.

Resolutions in regard to the naturalization by Mormons of Utah, were presented in the Maine Legislature and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations. Dr. Robinson was formerly a citizen of Maine.

How to utilize cast-off crinoline has been solved by a clerk at Streatham, England, who has placed his wife's steel jupon in the middle of his garden and used it as a trellis for a pyramid of creeping plants. And very pretty it looks, too.

COLD WEATHER.—A letter from Chicago to the Colorado Register says: On the 17th of January the mercury was fifteen degrees below zero, and that the rails of the railroads were breaking with the cold, making traveling somewhat dangerous.

A bill is before Congress to compensate the citizens of Colorado, Nebraska and Dakota, for losses sustained by Indian depredations during the last three years.

ENLARGEMENT OF THE MAIL.—The Brooklyn Eagle, one of the ablest conducted papers amongst our exchanges, announces in its last issue that the increase of the demands on its columns of advertisements, as well as its circulation, compels them to substitute one of Hoe's [illegible] Printing Machines for the one now in use. By this change they say they will be able to print twenty thousand copies per hour, of a sheet one-third larger than that now issued. Such enterprise deserves success.

THAT SLEIGH.—A perfect bijou of a sleigh has just been manufactured in this city by Mr. William Maloney, and it certainly will compare favorably with anything of the kind imported. The painting is by J. Matthews and the trimming by Woods and Thompson—the whole under the supervision of Mr. Maloney. The lucky owner is Mr. Hussey, a prominent banker of our city. The cost was $500. The mechanics in this city are capable of turning out specimens of as good workmanship as anybody, "or any other man."

Arrivals and Departures.

From the North—February 3—L. Reggell, Pete Brady, Augusta Gardiner, Phares Wells, Samuel Ensign, A. B. Hill, Philip Link, Mrs. L. Mathison, H. H. McKee. J. Pace.
To the East—February 4—Fred. Auerbach, B. Young, G. D. Watt, Miss Sarah A. Lewis,
To the West—W. S. Cobb.
To the North—M. Schweinin, A. Pollock.

MORMONISM IN ENGLAND.—The London Post of December 7th has the following:

At the Winchester Assizes on Tuesday, Paul Harris was indicted for marrying Emma Lewis, his first wife being then living. The prisoner was married at Bury, Lancashire, in October, 1840, to Mary Haymer, and again, in the name of James Herbert, to Emma Lewis, a widow, at Poplar, in October, 1865. Emma Lewis said that about eight years since she was told that the prisoner was a married man. She accused him of it, and he told her that the other marriage was a Mormon one. The prisoner was a Mormon preacher. He had used her very brutally. She had three children by the prisoner. She pretended to be a Mormon, but never was one. The first wife had come to their house in the Isle of Wight. When the witness came back and found the other woman, she took her children and went away, but the prisoner declared it was a Mormon marriage, and she then went traveling with the prisoner, leaving the children in the care of the other woman, because she had no means of supporting them. The prisoner, in his defence, said that he and this woman had lived together as man and wife, and they went through a mock marriage to please her father. The jury found the prisoner guilty, and he was sentenced to one year's imprisonment with hard labor.

PRECOCIOUS YANK.—The other night when the thermometer was at zero a prominent citizen was aroused by a violent knocking at the door of his domicil. Supposing that something extraordinary had happened, he jumped out of bed and opened the door, when he found a boy who questioned him as follows: "Do you live here? Are you going to live here next summer? Do you own this house?" Upon receiving affirmative answers, the boy further interrogated: "Well, Mr. ——, will you want your garden plowed next spring, because, if you do, I want the job." The "prominent citizen" slammed the door and went back to bed with anything but a religious turn of mind.

REGULAR ARMY APPOINTMENT.—Thos. F. Wright, Ambrose E. Hooker and Robert Pollock, late Colonels, have been appointed First Lieutenants; Samuel Smith, late Major, Captain; A. Starr, late Captain, and E. Seward, late Lieutenant, Second Lieutenants in the Regular Army. All these appointments were late officers of California Volunteers. The announcement that Captain Starr had been appointed a Captain, is an error.—San Francisco Call.

PIOUS NAME.—New Jerusalem is the heavenly name of a new village which has sprung up on the border of the San Joaquin river, not far from "Paradise."

RUMOR.—There is a rumor that General Sherman is again en route to the plains to see if the Indians are really hostile.

Our [illegible] has purchased a [illegible] on the Island of San Domingo, [illegible] single [illegible] was dispatched to take possession of it. The purchase was made for a naval station, and is an important acquisition. It consists of the peninsula [illegible] the island belonging to the little republic of San Domingo. According to the Bulletin, the peninsula is thirty-two miles long by eleven miles wide at its broadest. While it has mountain peaks which reach an elevation of from 1,809 to 1,920 feet, its soil is extremely fertile, and the greater extent is covered with timber suitable for ship building and cabinet work. There are mines of copper, gold and bituminous coal on the peninsula. Its population does not probably exceed 2,000. Samana Bay, on the south side of the peninsula, is forty-three miles in length from east to west, and eight miles broad, and at its west end receives the Yuna, the largest river in San Domingo. It is said to be one of the finest harbors in the world. Santa Barbara is a town, which has natural facilities for careening vessels. Samana has been long regarded as the most important maritime position, both in a commercial and military point of view, with reference to the trade of the Gulf of Mexico and the interoceanic routes across Central America. "Negotiations for its purchase," says the Bulletin, "were commenced during the administration of Buchanan but [illegible] our Government [illegible] favorable to the extension of slavery, the acquisition of Cuba being sought for that very purpose, and as diplomatic recognition of the Dominican Republic was scornfully refused, the negotiations were not successful. Since that time our Government, free of the incubus of slavery, has received a Minister from San Domingo, and last spring Secretary Seward made a friendly visit to the Republic, where he was cordially received, and smoothed the way to the important purchase just announced." Our rapidly extending commerce requires the establishment of naval and coaling stations in the South Pacific and Mediterranean, but thus far they have not been secured, but they will be reached in time. Some months since Turkey agreed to part with an island in the Grecian Archipelago for that purpose, but the Porte was induced by Napolean to break the sale—the general judgement among the allies of Turkey being that it would not be safe to give the United States a foothold [illegible] small in the Mediterranean. European Turkey, however, will soon fall into the hands of Russia, when as many islands as our commerce may require will be placed at our disposal without money and without price.—Virginia Enterprise.

A Romantic Lover.—A romantic story is told of an Englishman who sought the hand of a very charming lady, with whom he was passionately in love, but who constantly refused him. As he had reason to believe she loved him, he entreated her to know the reason why she refused her consent to their union. The lady, subdued by his constancy, told him that her only motive for refusing him was, that having by an accident lost a leg; it had been replaced by a wooden one, and she feared that sooner or later this circumstance would chill his affection for her. This she declared to be her only motive. The lover protested that would never make him change his love; but she persisted in refusing to marry him. Fired with love and determined that nothing should obstruct his design, he, under the pretext of going on a distant voyage, left the lady and hastened to Paris, where he had one of his own legs amputated. When he had recovered, he returned to London, went to the lady, and told her that now there was no obstacle to their union, for he was equally mutilated with herself. The lady, conquered by such a proof of affection, at last consented to marry him.
